Federal Agents Hunting Olson

Fugitive, Said To Be Mattson Kidnap, Has Eluded Posse In Woods

(International News Service)

HAYWARD, Wis., June 21.—Strengthening the theory that deer-fostered Olson is wanted for other heinous crimes besides slaying of two deputy sheriffs, federal agents today took direct charge of the woodland hunt for the fugitive killer.

The G-men moved into the case after Olson had been identified by Sheriff George Sehnatter as the kidnap-slayer of 10-year-old Charles Matson in Tacoma, Wash.

It was pointed out that federal agents would have no concern in the case if Olson was wanted solely for the double-killing which normally would be left in the hands of local authorities.

Olson's trail meanwhile was growing cold to posmen as the hunt for him entered the fifth day.

Secret System To Tell Sex Fails

Newark Man Is Double-Crossed By Nature On His Fore-casting "System"

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., June 21.—Although nature double-crossed him all along the line, Sidney A. Fortel, 35, refused today to admit any infallibility in the secret system by which he claims he has accurately foretold the sex of 150 babies.

Fortel turned out to be 100 per cent wrong in his predictions that his wife would present him with a baby boy on June 17 or 18 when she gave birth to a baby girl yesterday afternoon. Fortel had some time ago mailed advance announcements of the birth of a son, "Howard."

"The little girl will have a welcome but I won't take this sitting down," declared Fortel. "People will laugh at me but don't forget they laughed at Pasteur."

Japan Refuses Any Discussion Anent Blockade

Curtly Refuse British Request To Discuss Relaxation Of Tientsin Blockade

BRITISH SHIPS PLAN TO RUN BLOCKADE

Ships Depart From Shanghai With Food For British At Tientsin

(International News Service)

TIENTSIN, June 21.—Japanese officials, turning down a British request, today curtly refused even to discuss any relaxation of the blockade imposed on the British and French concessions in Tientsin.

The latest rebuff came when the chief staff officer of the British garrison asked through the Japanese consulate general or an interview with the chief Japanese staff officer—who is in charge of the ring of sentries around the concessions.

But Japanese consul Kunugi, according to semi-official Japanese sources, reminded the British officer that there "would be no use" in the interview "if it was designed to discuss the questions raised by British consul general Jamieson in his interview with Japanese consul general Tashiro Monday."

At that time Jamieson asked that the blockade be lifted, and charged discrimination against the British.

Plan To Run Blockade

Two British coastal vessels, confident that guns of his majesty's warships will protect them, sailed from Shanghai today to try to run the Japanese blockade at Tientsin with large cargoes of wheat, flour, vegetables, and fruit.

Eagerly awaiting the supplies, Britons in their blockaded area in Tientsin settled down for a long siege, their minds eased by the departure of 100 women and children by boat for the summer resorts of Peking and Chingwangtao.

Probably to assist in bringing in foodstuffs, the volunteer corps in the British concession today was ordered to stand ready for immediate mobilization. A truckload of vegetables was successfully escorted into the foreign zone under armed guard yesterday.

To protect any British merchantmen trying to reach Tientsin, the 1045-ton escort vessel Sandwich anchored off the Bund, reinforcing the cruiser Lowestoft. British ships trying to reach Tientsin earlier in the blockade were stopped by Japanese and searched. British protests were ignored.

Republicans Will Cite Lindbergh's Plane Testimony

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's recent testimony before the house appropriations committee was slated to be cited on the house floor, today by Republicans seeking to curb President Roosevelt's program for the immediate acquisition of 3,032 planes for the army.

As the house prepared to consider a special $292,695,547 appropriation bill carrying funds sufficient to bring the air force strength to 5,500 planes by June 30, 1941, the G. O. P. members said they would fight to have funds set aside for research work which Lindbergh described as urgently needed.

Rural Wives Make Swap Of Husbands; Divide Up Some Fourteen Children

(International News Service)

COLUMBIAVILLE, Mich., June 21.—Two rural wives, one a grandmother, the other a slim woman of 27, today made a friendly swap of husbands.

They also divided up 14 children each taking seven.

A cow was moved from one home to the other to assure the younger children of fresh milk.

Here's the lineup:
Mrs. Mildred Davis, 27, mother of four girls, is keeping house in the one-room farmhouse of Clarence June, 42.

Mrs. Edith June, 47, mother of 12, is keeping house in Columbiaville for George Davis, 45.

Mrs. Davis is caring for her four little girls and three of the June children, Clarence, Clair and Herbert, all needed to help work the farm.

Mrs. June is keeping seven of her own children. Two of Mrs. June's daughters are married and don't figure in the deal.

A cow was moved from the June farm to the Davis township home.

Living two miles apart, the two families are maintaining friendly relations.

As yet there has been no divorce, but June and Mrs. Davis plan to file suits and later there will be a double wedding.

Enthusiasm Shown For Testimonial To Power Company Leaders

With a nearly full membership present, the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Power Testimonial Dinner Committee met Tuesday night in the offices of the Greater New Castle Association and from the enthusiasm demonstrated there seems little doubt of the success of the dinner on the night of June 29.

General Chairman William A. Francis delivered a pep talk that brought home to the committee members the reasons why this dinner should be a success. "Here we have a company that has handed us a modern power plant, that fills a need in this community," said he. "With infinite faith in the future of this community they have gone ahead with the plant, giving employment to many for many more and as citizens we owe it to our city and ourselves to me we ought to fill the Cathedral with a crowd that will bulge the walls."

The chief speaker of the evening will be Wendell L. Wilkie, probably the foremost utility man in the world today and a man who has been called to the White House many times for counsel in problems that beset. When a man of his stature comes to our city and dignifies a dinner with his presence it certainly is a small thing for me to do as a citizen to pay my way to such a dinner and be one of a great host to do him honor."

Tickets were distributed by the ticket chairman, Thomas C. Edmunds. A report was had from the program committee and the usual connecting features of a speaking program outlined.

The sale of tickets will close on June 26. Frank Doyle and J. K. McQuiddy set the pace for ticket sales when they announced the Trades and Labor Assembly of New Castle had underwritten 100 tickets and this figure they said was a minimum. Other groups are asking for tickets and in a few days the demand will probably exceed the supply. They are priced at $1.25.

Chamberlain Says Britain Not Acquiescing In Tientsin Blockade

PLAN MEASURES TO COMBAT BLOCKADE

Negotiations On Tientsin Issue Difficult Because Of Japanese Vagueness

By CHARLES A. SMITH

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 21.—Great Britain does not acquiesce to the Japanese blockade of Tientsin "and is prepared to take any steps necessary to insure food supplies" for the British residents, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today.

In reply to a question by former Secretary Anthony Eden, the prime minister made clear that his government has no intention of accepting the Japanese blockade without taking suitable measures to combat it.

Answering a later question, Richard Austen Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said that Britain would not consider extending the projected Anglo-Franco-Soviet agreement to cover the Far East.

The negotiations, Butler said, are at present concerned solely with the European situation.

Negotiations Difficult
Asked whether Japan's failure to formulate her grievances against Great Britain did not make negotiations more difficult, Chamberlain said:

"Yes, it does. But we hope they will formulate their grievances."

The prime minister told the house that Britain had not discussed the Tientsin situation with Soviet Russia.

The position of the Tokyo government regarding the main issues in the Anglo-Japanese conflict is still "unclear," Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain declared today in a statement before the house of commons.

New Lending Program Is Outlined

Seek To Speed Aid To Business

Federal Loans On Wide Variety Of Projects Are Projected

DETAILS WILL BE GIVEN OUT LATER

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 21.—A new $1,000,000,000 federal lending program to speed business recovery by 1940, was being drafted by the administration today.

Details of the latest government spending plan, calling for federal loans for a wide variety of self-liquidating projects, are expected to be made public later this week by President Roosevelt.

The new program was outlined by a special committee of government financial advisers after it became apparent that the record-breaking peacetime expenditures of the current fiscal year would not suffice in achieving desired business recovery levels.

Program Outlined

The committee's program, as outlined to International News Service by a member, call for:

1. Enlarged loans for rural rehabilitation and farm tenancy projects, particularly in the south.
2. Construction of new public roads, tunnels, and bridges.
3. Loans to railroads for purchase of rolling stock and other new equipment.
4. Enlargement of the rural electrification program.
5. Loans for public health facilities including hospital construction and sanitation work.
6. Large-scale housing construction for low income groups.

While the president said yesterday he will not send any message to congress on the plan, it is probable the administration will request a general expansion of lending powers of various government agencies.

It is also likely that congress will be asked to create at least one or more special organizations to handle portions of the program.

HIGH OFFICERS OF MOOSE COMING FOR CONVENTION

at the age of 16, young Jim Davis was a trained puddler. In 1891, he left Sharon for Elwood, Ind. in search of work, and in time, was elected president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers city clerk of Elwood, and later recorder of Madison County, Ind.

In 1906, Mr. Davis joined the Moose, being the 247th member, and saw in it a means to realize his dreams of service. At the time he joined, the order had become practically moribund. With energy and enthusiasm, he set out to make the Local Order of Moose a great organization, of service to all mankind. At the end of four years of effort, he brought the membership to 80,000 among 333 lodges. In 1913, Mooseheart, the Child City, was established to care for an educate the children of deceased members of the fraternity.

In addition to the Moose, he is an active member of the Odd Fellows, and Masonic fraternity, being a member of Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R.

by Architect Harry L. Wirsing and after considering it, the grand jury approved the idea.

The next step was the approval of the court and after scanning the plans, Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey approved them. The last step necessary is the advertising of bids and the letting of the contract which the commissioners are now preparing to do.

In order to have a minimum of confusion at the court house it was deemed wise to advertise for bids from private contractors. The commissioners hope to get started with the erection of the building within a short time.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Former U. S. Circuit Judge Martin T. Manton remained in seclusion today in a status similar to that experienced by many of the defendants in the court where he had so long presided—at liberty under $10,000 bail pending an appeal for a new trial.

Despite his lengthy plea for a reversal of the verdict, Manton was sentenced to the maximum—two years in prison and a $10,000 fine—by Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, who denounced Manton's conviction as a bribe taker as "abhorrent."

Manton's appeal will be heard at the fall term of the U. S. circuit court, the same court over which he presided until he resigned under fire.

Promises Investigation

The prime minister asserted it has not yet been decided whether the issues will be thrashed out at Tientsin or in Tokyo but added that further word on developments was anticipated for later today or tomorrow.

Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita, Chamberlain said, has promised to institute an inquiry into alleged discrimination against any ill-treatment of British residents of Tientsin.

British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craigie has repeatedly called the Japanese government's attention to this situation, he said.

The prime minister added that more than half of the battalion which forms the British garrison in North China is now at Tientsin.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and No! Eat Everything from Soup to Vets

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, course or rich food, or when you are hurried, hurried or over-eat, your stomach often pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain, or sour stomach. Eat light, eat slow, stick and digest all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes these little black tablets called Dais and you get indigestion to make the excess stomach acid harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one. The package proves it. Ask for Dais, ask for Indigestion.

For the ceremony the church altar was beautifully decorated with choice flowers of the season and intermingled with ferns and foliage, provided a colorful setting.

WELCOME LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE DELEGATES

WITH the New Castle Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, No. 51, in the special role of host, New Castle as a city joins in extending to the delegates from the hundred and twenty-seven lodges represented in the Western Pennsylvania Association, a most cordial welcome to the city.

Many conventions have been entertained in this city in recent years, and the city is anxious as ever, to hold in the esteem of the visiting members of the Moose, the same feeling that has been carried away by the hundreds of others who have been guests of the city at various gatherings.

With the notable heritage of the work being done at Mooseheart, and in other endeavors of the organization for the uplift and aid of their members and those associated with them, it is an honor to be among the Moose host at this Western Pennsylvania gathering this week, and the city is wont to accord a full measure of tribute.

It is the desire that the convention days may be a pleasure; stay here most enjoyable; and that the sessions may provide much of inspiration and helpfulness to all concerned.

WELCOME TO NEW CASTLE!

GOOD NEWS, BUT THE GAP IS STILL TOO WIDE

IT is heartening news that, according to treasury estimates, the Federal income at the close of this fiscal year on June 30 will be about $500,000,000 more than was anticipated by the President last January, with a corresponding reduction in the predicted deficit.

Any decrease in the prospective Federal deficit is welcome. Yet it should be remembered that at this time last year the annual deficit stood at only $1,349,000,000. Moreover, while the public debt was $37,381,000,000 a year ago it is about $40,349,000,000 now.

In spite of the estimated increase in Federal revenue, the gap between the government's income and its outgo is far too wide. It is believable that a tremendous spur to recovery, to jobs and to wages will come when the Government is able to balance its expenditures with its receipts and to begin reducing its huge indebtedness.

PUNISHMENT AS A CHECK ON CRIME

That the "futility of punishment" is proved by the continued prevalence of crime despite the penalties imposed by law is a familiar argument raised by those who moon over the sad plight of convicted criminals.

It has been adduced again, in a speech before the National Probation Association in Buffalo, by Judge Atwell Westwick at California. He points out that no matter how ingenious and inhuman the penalties for lawbreaking over the years, the number of offenders seems never to have decreased. "Social revenge," he asserts, "is the only honest, straightforward, logical argument that can be advanced in favor of punishment."

The State is getting no "social revenge" in sending a murderer to the chair or a bandit to prison. It is merely upholding law and order, protecting its citizens and serving a warning on other criminally minded persons. Because one lawbreaker is punished, all crime does not instantly evaporate. But to abandon all penalties because of that, to leave the commission of crime unpunished, is to provide no deterrent whatsoever to wholesale law violation.

The California Judge may not approve of punishment, but what would he set up in its place? Remove from the criminal the fear of the chair, give him only the soft words of the convict coddler, and he is going to laugh at laws. If crime, with punishment threatened, flourishes, what would it do if there were no penalty whatever attached?

FORTY-FOUR HOURS TO EUROPE

Lindbergh made his New York-to-Paris flight in 1927. It was not the first transatlantic flight, but it was, in a sense, the most perfect, and it was, without question, the most dramatic. The flight led to optimistic predictions that commercial flight between the European and American continents in heavier-than-air machines would not be long in coming.

It has taken 12 years for the dream of 1927 to become real. It is well that this should have been so. Without adequate preparation of routes, machines and men, the transatlantic air crossing would have been hazardous. One or two bad accidents would have prejudiced the public against the enterprise. But the Pan-American group, pioneering in this field, has conducted five survey flights over the route itself, as well as five preliminary air mail hops. So now, on the afternoon of June 28, the first commercial flight will start from Port Washington, L. I., for Marseilles, France, via the Azores and Lisbon.

Two four-ton four-engined amphibians will start a twice-a-week service, which it hoped soon to expand into four services a week. The ships can accommodate 74 passengers per trip. The ships will leave Port Washington, for example, on a Wednesday at 3 p. m., arrive at Lisbon at 5 a. m. Thursday, after an hour's stop at Horta, in the Azores; leave Lisbon at 7 a. m. Friday, after an all-night stop-over, and arrive at Marseilles Friday at 3 p. m. The overnight stop at Lisbon will be necessary until General Franco gives permission for flight across Spain. The total traveling time is estimated at 44 hours, for a trip that would take five and one-half days or longer on a surface ship. There will also be inaugurated a regular, once-a-week air mail service between the United States and the British Isles, via Canada and Newfoundland.

All who are interested in the progress of civil aviation will wish the new enterprise well and hope that the more adventurous among us, or those who want to get to Europe, or get from there post-haste, will patronize this new, pioneer route.

Words Of Wisdom

Throwing of old shoes, rice and confetti after the bride and bridegroom are cherished and permissible old customs, provided care is taken in the throwing. It is vulgar and ill-bred, however, to grow riotous and play embarrassing tricks on the newlyweds.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PROBLEMS OF MARRIAGE

Every couple joined in marriage have very different personalities, even though they think they are ever so alike. After they have lived together fairly amicably and companionably, will they differ more or become more alike?

Let us suppose they are pretty evenly matched as to self-respect and independence. Even then, one, on the average, will be slightly dominant. In case one strongly dominates the other and the other submissively accepts that one's dominance, the subservient one will tend to modify his (or her) ideas and ideals in the direction of those of the dominating spouse.

Suppose, for instance, Mrs. Woodie dominates over her meek husband. Then Mr. Woodie will tend to fit his conversation and ideals into those of Wife Woodie. But if Mr. Woodie, lacking Mrs. Woodie's fire and force, still resisted her domineering attitude toward him, his conversation and ideals might grow more and more unlike his wife's.

Case In Point
Suppose Hubby Woodie from his childhood learned to be anxious about missing trains, so that he was never happy unless he arrived at the depot with a 30-minute margin. Suppose Mrs. Woodie from her childhood had met such matters calmly, always being content merely to catch the departing train. She probably poked fun at him about his train-anxiety, while he nags at her for her indifference to the peril of being late. The more she ridicules him, the more he nags her, and vice versa. I know a pair of parents just like that. Perhaps you think of similar instances, even right at home.

When Baby Willie Woodie joins this couple, they may disagree on certain matters about his upbringing. One may want to let him cry it out. The other to take him up, one to spank him when he is a toddler, the other to eschew all pain as punishment. One may want to let him fight his own battles, even to encourage him to stand up in self-defense, the other to protect the child.

More Different
Instead of coming to accord on such matters, the Woodie parents may become more different. But they won't if they can discipline themselves to agree upon specific standards by which they will abide. Even then there will be considerable backsliding and widening of former gaps at times. Nevertheless, if they know that such is Human Nature's ways, they will be able to muffle their mutual vexation, maybe to laugh at the funny ways in which they act.

THE "RETORT COURTEOUS"

The Duke of Wellington and George Washington were great men. The Duke was a good deal of a martinet when dealing with his men, and Washington has not been particularly famous for having a quick retort upon his lips.

There are two stories showing, nevertheless, that even a British Tommy has wit at his command and that Washington possessed the ability to make the "retort courteous." Shortly after the Battle of Waterloo, the Duke was passing through the parade grounds and heard a subordinate refer to himself as "Wellington." The old soldier stopped, told the young soldier that he should not speak so familiarly of the commander of the forces.

"I beg your pardon, your grace," the young man said, "but I never heard of any prefix to the name of Hannibal, Caesar, Tammerlane or Napoleon, and I treated your name with similar honor."

Then, when Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, Washington refused to humiliate the British General and his aides by accepting their swords. On the contrary, he treated Cornwallis as an honored guest, and gave a dinner in his honor.

At the dinner, Rochambeau, being asked for a toast, proposed "The United States." Washington gave "The King of France." Lord Cornwallis merely gave "The King," and Washington, putting the toast, added the words that Cornwallis had intended by saying, "The King of England," and added a sentiment of his own that made even Cornwallis laugh—"May he stay there!"

While Bernice is explaining the difference between National Socialism, Marxism and Syndicalism, Magda, with clever brevity, is sketching some pungent anecdotes about some star of the stage, screen or opera or some other celebrity in public life.

Dear Miss Markel—What clothes should a guest wear at an afternoon wedding and an evening wedding?

Answer—A street-length dress, hat and gloves to the afternoon wedding whether it be formal or informal. If the evening wedding is to be in formal, you may wear a street-length dress, hat and gloves to both the ceremony and the reception. If it is to be formal, and you are to sit "in the ribbons" and go later to the reception, you should wear evening clothes or at least a dinner dress and wrap. If you are going simply to witness the ceremony (not going to the reception) and not "sitting in the ribbons" you may wear street clothes, if you wish.

What's What At A Glance

Cabinet Disagrees On Tariff
Hull And Wallace Are Opposed
Protection Hurts The Farmers

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, June 21.—State Secretary Cordell Hull and Agriculture Secretary Henry A. Wallace are getting rapidly into what looks like a regular row over Uncle Sam's international trade policy.

It's quite natural for them to disagree. Secretary Hull, an old-time Democrat, always has opposed artificial restrictions upon or stimulations of imports and exports. Secretary Wallace, who was a perfectly good Republican until he accepted a New Deal cabinet post, evidently still is a believer in the time-honored G. O. P. protective doctrine.

High Import Tariffs

It's easy to see why American manufacturers, liked high import tariffs. Maybe they were shortsighted in doing so, but they didn't think they were. The protective system tended to keep foreign manufacturers from breaking into the Yankee market in competition with our domestic folk, which enabled the latter to maintain stiff domestic prices. If they over-produced a trifle they sold their surplus abroad for what they could get—often for less than they charged here. But they didn't over-produce much, because a factory can limit its output very readily.

But agriculture is different. American farmers not only CAN over-produce in proportion to the home-demand for their crops. They generally DO. Occasionally they have a bad year, with high prices but not much to sell. And when a climatic year he can't prevent his stuff from growing—he doesn't want to, for that matter. Consequently, he usually has lots of crops, but a skimpy domestic demand for them. Hence he needs a foreign outlet. Else his surplus depresses his domestic prices. Meantime, protected manufacturers have socked him with fancy figures upon everything he's had to purchase. The poor ruralite has been squeezed going and coming.

"Protection" Hurts Farmers

In justice to the manufacturers, it must be admitted that they invariably have been super-willing to grant agriculture any amount of tariff protection.

BUT Tariff protection, while extremely nice for an interest which seeks to exclude imports, is extremely damaging to an interest which seeks exports.

This notion finally soaked into the agricultural bean. It became obvious to the farmer that what he required was a protective tariff in REVERSE—of some sort. In other words, he needed to be subsidized domestically, to enable him to undersell all competitors in foreign markets—taxing the American public for the subsidy, to enable him to do it.

It was just as logical as the manufacturers' protective tariff, but the manufacturers immediately saw the economic fallacy of it—it would counteract their profits.

That was the nub of the celebrated McNary-Haugen bill, back in President Coolidge's time. It was the protective tariff—backwards. It fizzled.

Hull Versus Wallace

State Secretary Hull's thesis is a free international exchange of everything every way. That's the purpose of his reciprocal trade agreements, of which he's framed about 20 up to date—a middling good beginning. They're not 100 per cent free trade, but that's their tendency. A world policy!

Under the old game agriculture was stung, according to Secretary Hull, at the manufacturers' expense. Which so crippled agriculture that manufacturing felt the general economic effects of it.

But Secretary Wallace continues to calculate agriculture separately. President Roosevelt hasn't said which side he supports.

It's a mean muss, though, between members of the same cabinet.

It isn't inter-partisan, anyway. It's intra-economic.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The post-mortem on our party for the King and Queen may continue with decent observance of essential proprieties but with perhaps less constraint in what we may say about it. It is the hope of both countries that it aided international good will and understanding. We liked the King and Queen immensely and while royalty can never wear its heart on its sleeve, it is indicated that they liked us.

The British public was delighted with our enthusiasm and with our grand official and social plunge in honor of their well-beloved monarchs. We piped down on war debts and our fear of too fervid and definite commitments to the designs of British imperialism. That was all a net gain and all in line with seemingly behavior.

But now that the captains and the kings depart we can see that some long end-runs are needed to take us all the way down the field to complete understanding. We cite the behavior of many British newspapers, barring the London Times, in their handling of the news of Their Majesties' visit to the U. S. A. Sturdy old England clings to tradition and dislikes change. The long-established and, of course, inviolable tradition was that American crowds, seeing Grade A royalty for the first time, would behave like a lot of frolicsome baboons. And they had it that way.

One of the British reporters on this job is an acquaintance of this writer. He is a man of taste and intelligence and an accurate reporter. He told me of covering the Washington and New York receptions with other British journalists. Neither he nor they saw the slightest breach of decorum. There were no rude or indecorous shouts to the King and Queen. They were unfailingly well-behaved and friendly crowds and the whole thing went off without a single embarrassing contretemps.

My friend said that it was all but unbelievable that such vast crowds should reveal such model behavior. But when he read the British papers he found that these same colleagues had reported roughnecks everywhere, shouting, "Atta Baby, Queen! Hey, you King! Slip it to yuh, George!" and other such outbreaks of what the British comely believe is the native American idiom. My British friend burned up his fellow scribes more effectively than I could if this were an asbestos newspaper and I had the whole issue.

If they throw in their grappling hooks they probably can find a beam or two in our eye, but if they can find any to tie that, we'll throw in the eye along with it. In this corner we have previously touched on the American stereotype built up in Britain by a synthesis of moving picture and Chicago gangland talk.

Mrs. Trollop, Charles Dickens and Victorian plays, such as "Our Country Cousin," gave the legend a fast running start. We're not a bad sort for colonial and, under more constraint in their tight little island, they rather like our abandon, even if it is uncouth. In this they have somewhat the whole outlook of the little girl on Martha's Vineyard, writing of Napoleon in a school essay: "Napoleon was a nice man, although an off-islander."

Again, on the matter of the beam in your neighbor's eye, I think we may safely cite the work of American correspondents, not only in London but in all Europe for the last decade or two. I insist that it has been, factual reporting without violations of either accuracy or good taste. These correspondents never have held up a people to ridicule and never have been guilty of such crooked, stupid clumsy faking as in these reports of crowd behavior on the occasion of the royal visit.

I believe something like an exchange professorship between distinguished London and New York newspaper correspondents, in which England would see America clearly and intelligently, and vice versa, would contribute more to international understanding and good will than all the diplomatic phengaling of the centuries.

And, not merely being chivalrous but stating a fact, it is a British newspaperman who should put forward this journalistic rapprochement. There is no more capable, intelligent and honest reporter in the business anywhere than Sir Wilmot Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times for many years. The British are like that. No blanket indictment ever stretches quite far enough to cover them all.

Of this amount the City of New Castle is assessed with $13,969,808 with a tax return of $55,835. E. Ellwood City has a value of $2,992,767 with a tax return $10,770.99. It is nearly time for the annual headache for Will Eakin, chief clerk to the county commissioners. Mr. Eakin has charge of election preparations and by the time he has verified all petitions, checked them, got their names on the ballots and then triple checked them for accuracy his disposition is beginning to fray at the edges.

June 24 is the first day to secure signatures to petitions for nomination. With the heat of the offices to be filled there will probably be around 700 candidates over the entire county. All of them have to fill out petitions and all the petitions have to be checked.

Filing fees must accompany each petition and the fee must be in the form of a certified check or postal money order. For offices in the county at large the filing fee is $25. For offices in the city at large, $25. For boro, school district or poor district offices, justices of the peace, $20. An office which pays no salaries or fee has no filing fee attached.

For judge or inspectors of elections, fifty cents. For alderman, justice of the peace or constable, $2. For township auditor $1. for road supervisor, $1.

"THE BEST PERFORMER EVER BUILT!"
Owners say it—Sales prove it

Count acceleration and hill-climbing... count riding comfort and reliability... count economy of gas, oil, tires and upkeep... Owners say it—sales prove it—"Chevrolet is the best performer ever built!"

And the reason why Chevrolet owners give this car such high praise will become clearly apparent to you the moment you drive it.

They say Chevrolet is "the best performer ever built," because it out-accelerates, out-climbs, out-performs all other economy cars—bar none! Because it represents the highest standard of smooth, safe, steady riding and day-in-and-day-out dependability. Because it gives all these results at lower cost.

But riding beats reading! So drive this fleet, powerful Chevrolet and prove to yourself what Chevrolet sales prove to the world, that owners are right when they say it's "the best performer ever built."

State To Check Fireworks' Toll In July 4 Period

New Law Places Restriction On Sale Of Fireworks In State

HARRISBURG, June 21—Reports of all accidents from explosions treated by Pennsylvania hospitals during the coming Fourth of July celebrations, have been requested by the State Council for the Blind, in the Department of Welfare.

In a circular letter mailed today to state-aided institutions throughout the commonwealth requesting the information, it was also pointed out that a prohibitory fireworks law recently was signed by Governor James, but that paper caps used in toy pistols, canes, guns and other devices, are permissible.

It is the council's belief that the paper caps also are harmful and that deaths have resulted from tetanus, following serious burns. The Hospital Association of Pennsylvania has assured the council of its member institutions' co-operation. Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeney said today.

Slays Stepson; Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 21.—In a bizarre "murder-suicide" John Carl, 48, a Penn township farmer, shot and killed his stepson, Robert Magill, 34, and then took his own life with a single-barreled shot-gun, re-loading five times before killing himself.

The tragedy, which ended a bitter feud, occurred on the 34½ acre Magill farm near the Jeannette-Harrison City road. Police said the feud was started over the stepson's alleged heavy drinking.

In piecing together the crime, police related that young Magill was in bed sleeping when Carl entered the room, leveled the shot-gun at the stepson's head and fired, the bullet entering above the right ear.

"He never knew what hit him," Dr. H. A. McMurray, county coroner, declared.

SEVERE FORMS OF SCURVY IN CHILDREN CAUSES EXTREME SUFFERING

As we discovered yesterday, when babies contract scurvy it is usually noticed first in their feet and legs. The hemorrhage under these circumstances occurs well under the skin, or it may be deeper, extending right down to the bone. In the more serious cases, we sometimes find that the outer covering of the bone—the periosteum—has been stripped off, due to the large amount of blood lying underneath it.

Another place babies are apt to hemorrhage from scurvy is in the gums. This is because the malady makes its appearance at the time the teeth are beginning to come through. The gums are never involved in a baby that has no teeth and so the importance of the injury to the tissues is apparent.

Of course, hemorrhages may occur in many other parts of the body. The skin may develop large bruises, which are more apt to occur where the skin has been damaged in some way. If a child has scurvy, the slightest injury will cause a large bruise. Frequently they occur in the area about the eye, and the baby develops what is commonly called a "shiner" for no apparent reason.

Here is the story we doctors usually find when we run across a case of scurvy in a baby. The child was in the best of health from three to six weeks before the most acute symptoms developed. The first abnormality was that the infant began refusing his food. Then he became increasingly irritable and didn't sleep quietly.

We know that the usual lesion in scurvy is a hemorrhage occurring anywhere in the body due to the weakening of the cement which holds the cells forming the blood vessels together. So it may well be that the early signs of irritability in the baby are due to small hemorrhages occurring where they aren't noticed and causing him some pain. I say this because the case usually starts out with an irritability for which there is no known cause.

Next thing the mother notices is that the baby screams when he is picked up or handled. It gets so he yells when he sees the mother walking toward him, because handling hurts him extremely. As the disease gains headway, the mother will notice that her baby doesn't move his lower extremities at all. Finally, when the disease reaches its height, the baby will lie with his legs drawn up slightly and separated as much as possible. He will not move from his position and any attempt to move him will be met by screams of pain. This pain in handling is due to hemorrhage about the bones of the legs.

In its severe forms, the hemorrhage becomes so bad that the small, growing end of the bone breaks off from the rest and a layer of blood separates the two. When this happens, every movement is accompanied by the same pain as though an actual fracture or break had occurred.

Guest Pastors At Highland Church

Because of preparatory services planned for Thursday and Friday nights of this week the prayer service of Highland U. P. church will be omitted tonight.

Rev. H. C. McAuley, pastor of the Brownlee Woods U. P. church, of Youngstown, will preach the sermon Thursday, and Rev. W. E. Minter, pastor of the U. P. church of Ellwood City, will bring the message Friday. Services will be at 7:45. Rev. McAuley is the father of Mrs. Willis A. McGill, wife of Highland's foreign pastor in Cairo, Egypt. Communion will be observed Sunday morning.

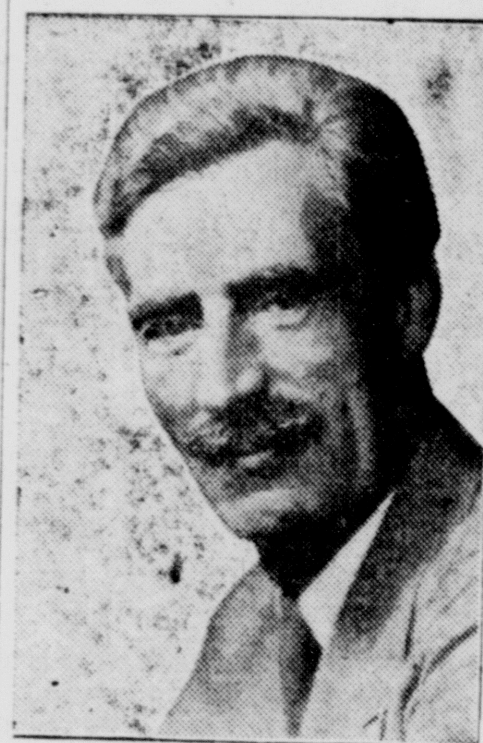

When a church official is caught stealing, it doesn't mean that religion doesn't make men honest. It means he had no religion.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile isn't flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Refuse anything else. At all drug stores. 10¢ and 25¢.

City Tax Laws Are Not Uniform

Study Of Tax Conditions
Made By Secretary Of Internal Affairs

DIFFERENCES ARE REVEALED

HARRISBURG, June 21—Lack of uniformity in taxing methods of third class cities in Pennsylvania is shown in a report made public today by Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, Jr.

An analysis of poll and occupation levies in cities of this class reveals that thirteen cities have neither occupation nor poll tax, eleven cities have poll tax only, fifteen cities have occupation tax only and five cities have both occupation and poll taxes. The thirteen cities which have neither of these two levies are Altoona, Chester, Coatesville, Duquesne, Erie, Harrisburg, Franklin, Lancaster, Lebanon, Monessen, McKeesport, Reading and York.

Those which collect poll tax only are Allentown, Bradford, Clairton, Easton, Greensburg, Lock Haven, Meadville, New Kingston, Sunbury, Titusville and Williamsport.

The fifteen which have occupation tax alone are Beaver Falls, Butler, Connelville, Corry, Farrell, Hazleton, Monaca, Nanticoke, New Castle, Oil City, Pottsville, Sharon, Uniontown, Washington and Wilkes-Barre.

Five cities, Bethlehem, Carbon-dale, DeBoise, Johnstown and Pitts-burgh collect both occupation and poll taxes.

Bethlehem, however, levies poll tax against women only and Pitts-burgh against men only.

Compositions By Edmundson To Be Chief Feature

At the National Convention of the (A. G. O.) American Guild of Organists, held in Philadelphia during this week, Garth Edmundson's organ compositions will be featured more than any other American composer. Mr. Edmundson is organist of the First Baptist church.

Edwin Arthur Craft, of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, will play, Toccata on Von Himmel Hoch; Charlotte Klein, Church of the Epiphany, Washington, D. C., will present, Prelude on "Fair Lord Jesus"; Ann Mathewson, of New York, does a Toccata on a Medieval Theme; and Dr. Francis Snow, of Trinity Church, Boston, will play, "Redeem."

Mr. Edmundson's recently issued choral number, setting to music the famous poem of Christina Rossetti, "None Other Lamb" is the first American anthem listed in the late 1939 survey of new choral music. The Westminster Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, which was heard here in concert last winter, has added it to their new repertoire.

Governor Signs Twenty Nine Bills

Three Other Measures Passed
By State Legislature Are
Vetoed At Same Time

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 21—Gov. Arthur H. James on Tuesday signed 29 bills passed by the 1939 legislature and vetoed three.

Those signed were generally of interest only to the constituencies of the bills sponsors.

The governor vetoed bills which would have imposed upon the state the maintenance cost of convicts whose death sentences were commuted; give the welfare department regulatory powers over private institutions and agencies receiving state aid; and extend the time presentation for payment of unemployment relief orders cancelled for non-presentation within the prescribed time.

Among the acts approved were the following:
Rose and Roseberry—An act authorizing the abatement of certain tax penalties, interest and costs on county (except Philadelphia), borough, town, township, school district (except Philadelphia and Pittsburgh) and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period; and providing for the extension thereof.

Schrock and Line—Deferring operation of the act relieving poor districts of certain of the costs for maintenance of indigent insane by placing such costs on the state.

Freed—Amendment of the 1937 Pennsylvania election code.

Edmonds—An act abolishing the oil industry investigating commission.

Geltz—An act abolishing the motor vehicle dealers' commission, set up by the Earle administration to regulate the "Little NRA" act for the used car industry. The act was invalidated by the courts.

South China Port Of Swatow Is Taken By Japanese

U. S. Destroyer At Action Scene

Move Of Japs Designed To Cut Off Supplies To Chiang Kai-Shek's Forces

(International News Service)
HONG KONG, June 21.—Crushing Chinese opposition in a five-hour battle, Japanese army and navy landing forces today occupied the South China Port of Swatow. Under the guns of the United States destroyer Pillsbury.

In a stunning surprise offensive designed to cut off Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's flow of war supplies, from 300 to 500 blue-jackets and soldiers, backed by warships' guns, landed on either bank of the Swatow river at 4 a. m.

Objective Achieved
At 9 a. m. it was announced that "after considerable resistance" the Japanese "achieved their objective," and another port was added to those in China controlled by the Japanese.

Transports filled with more troops then sailed up the river as warships occupied the Swatow harbor.

In a pincher movement, meanwhile, two other Japanese columns pushed inland on both sides of the city, aiming to encircle Swatow and cut the railroad leading to Chaochow—said to be one of the main sources of war supplies for the Chinese.

The Pillsbury stood by to protect the handful of Americans in Swatow.

Yanks Increase League Lead At Expense Of Sox

Defeat White Hose 13 To 3, Indians Win From Senators In Extra-Innings

DODGERS BEATEN BY CINCINNATI

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 21.—We never saw a team with more pride in its own ability than this current crop of Yankees. They look and act the part of the champions they are at all times.

Only yesterday they weighed in with 19 hits, including three triples and five doubles for an easy 13-3 decision over the White Sox. They really unloaded against Vic Frazier in the seventh.

Still, the Red Sox are plugging along trying their best in what must appear a hopeless chase. They stopped the Browns, 8-1, and in doing so Auker made a good bid to hand the St. Louis club its first shutout this year. He had them blanked until the ninth.

The Indians came from behind to tie the Senators in the ninth and went out in the 12th, 4-3. In a night game at Philadelphia, the Detroit Tigers whipped the Athletics 5 to 0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Tommy Bridges. It was the Athletics' fourth appearance under the bright lights and their fourth defeat.

There were only two games in the National league because the Cards and Phils and Giants and Pirates were washed out. The Reds picked up half a game on the Cards by trimming the Dodgers, 4-2. Dolph Camilli's 12th homer robbed Bucky Walters of a shutout but not of his 10th victory.

The Cubs moved into the first division ahead of the Dodgers by beating the Bees, 3-1. Claude Passeau not only led the Bees to five hits but he himself made two of the six. Cub hits and drove in two of the Cub runs.

City Softball Games Tonight

The City Softball League will be back in operation again tonight with the playing of four games. The battles will start at 8 o'clock.

The league leading Nobils will tangle with the Foley team at Lehigh field and should win.

The Rads, the team that is chasing the Nobils hardest for the first half flag, will battle the Gus Big Ten at the Gaston Park field. The Lingerlights of the Seventh ward, will meet the Sons of Italy at Dean Park field.

The Johnson Bronze team will go to Glasser field to meet the strong K. Pulaski team. The Pulaskis are all pepped up since beating the powerful Foley team.

Ed Smolnik Pitches Fine Two-It Game As Oaklanders Fake City Loop Battle

The K. Pulaski baseball team behind the well two-hit pitching of Ed Smolnik won from the Union Civics last night at Glasser field 3 to 0. Shaw also pitched a good game, allowing but six hits, but the Pulaskis bunched them in two innings for their runs.

Extra-heavy hitting was done by Mateja, Smialowski, and Brysh for the Lefty Maslyk coached team. It was a hurling battle all the way, with Smolnik fanning four men and Shaw six batters.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Diamond tid-bits—"Lefty" O'Doul, former major league star, is still popular. In San Francisco recently, 22,000 fans gathered for Lefty O'Doul Day. Over 100 kiddies were lost in the rush. The youngsters separated from their parents, and couldn't find their way back. Newspapermen assisted in returning the kiddies to their parents. Baseball oddity: James C. Wilson, a Louisville fan, was driving along the Colonel's park recently, listening to the radio broadcast of the Louisville-Kansas City game. "Vince DiMaggio smashed one over the left field fence," came over the ether waves. Wilson leaned out to see if he could locate the ball. As he did, the pellet hit the top of his auto! Ed Leonard, the discarded National Leaguer, is again proving one of the sensations of the American loop. To date, the kunkle ball hurler has lost but one clash. Monday, the Senator pegger goose-egged the Browns for nine frames before he gave up a run. His teammates collected a marker to deadlock matters. Appleton went to the mound, losing in the 14th and Vernon Kennedy went the entire 14 innings for the Browns, yielding 6 hits. The Tigers made a grave mistake when they discarded Kennedy.

Local sport shots—Fred Shaffer pinned back the ears of Kansas City, American Association league leader, a couple of days ago. He gave up but five hits. Seen along the fairways almost daily: Phil H. Bridenbaugh, pilot of the New Castle high Red Hurricane. He steps along with the best of them. When the genial gridironologist sends his proteges through their paces, during the last week of August, he will have a veteran backfield on hand, Jim Rucker, at quarterback, LeRoy Roberts, at fullback, and a lad named Nickum, brother of Whitey Nickum, are all capable reserves equipped with lots of experience. Add the name of Dick Biddle to this list and what have you? One of the most promising backfields the Hurricane has had in several years.

Plan Twin Bill At West Pittsburgh

Manager Danny DeGenova, of the West Pittsburgh "Gas House" gang, will give the fans a real treat Sunday by staging a double-header at the West Pittsburgh field.

In the first game a postponed affair from earlier in the year, the West Pittsburghs will play the Columbus club, this game starting at 1 o'clock.

The K. Pulaski team will be met in the second game at 3 o'clock. This will be the first double bill that any of the city league teams have tried this year. Both are postponed city league games.

With Paul Morrison pitching a steady six-hit game, and with the West Side Tiger on the prowl in the last of the sixth inning for nine runs, the Men of the House of McCormick littered the City Baseball League upside down last night by pasting a 10 to 2 defeat on the league leading Slovaks to make the first half pennant fight a wide open affair.

The defeat hurt the Slovaks no end, as they have three games to play yet before the half ends for them. Johnny Carik breezed along with a 2 to 1 lead until the sixth and then the Tigers started to bat that old apple around. A couple of Slovak errors helped to put Carik on the downward trend. W. Bevan had the only extra base hit of the game, a double. Carik fanned five and Morrison whiffed six.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Johnny Dean, local middleweight, dropped an eight-round decision to Freddy Lenn of Pittsburgh in the Jake Mintz bowl in Millvale last night, according to the Post-Gazette.

They fought hammer and tonga throughout. Lenn jabbed and hooked and while he piled up points because of Dean's lack of defense, the New Castle boxer gave him an interesting fight and the crowd was pleased. In the windup of 10 rounds, Charley Burley of Pittsburgh dropped the decision to Jimmy Leto of Hartford, Conn. It was a split award.

Gate receipts for the championship fight between the defender, Joe Louis, and Tony Galento may not amount to more than $300,000 and bets are being made Tony will not answer the bell for the fourth round.

Frank Parker, Pasadena, defeated Carl Becker, Chicago, 6-1, 6-2, and is favored to win the singles title in play at Chicago. In another match, Wayne Sabin, Portland, Ore., seeded second, beat Ben McHaffey, Chicago, 6-0, 6-2, in a first round match. Parker won a first round match by default.

Charles Randall of this city has been named tennis pro at the New Castle Field club and will go on the job soon. Bob Latara handled Johnny Dean last night in Pittsburgh and Dean fulfilled his promise when he told the writer he would start swinging the minute he entered the ring. Although he lost, Dean kept his word. The writer believed Lenn would outbox Johnny but the fight last night was a starter for Dean in this section.

There will be no boxing in the Arena next Monday night. Some of the local amateurs are finding work in out-of-town rings. The Mayo clinic has not rendered a decision on Lou Gehrig's condition. Dick Metz captured

Market Encounters Light Profit Taking Today, Trading Turns Dull

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 21.—The stock market encountered light profit-taking today, following the fair-sized advance through the three preceding sessions.

Declines in most cases were limited to fractional proportions, although a few stocks lost more than a point. Trading continued as slow as on the upside.

Reactionary tendencies were due chiefly to technical factors, for Wall Street continued to find business news of an encouraging nature.

Traders were inclined to take profits realized early this week, in view of the unimpressive volume which accompanied the rise.

Owens-Illinois, Bethlehem Steel, Allied Chemical and Union Carbide were among the representative stocks to drop a point or more.

Practical declines were the rule in such issues as U. S. Steel, DuPont, Chrysler, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Anaconda, General Electric, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward and Douglas Aircraft.

The list was mixed and dull at the start, but soon began to slide under last night's closings.

'GHOST' WATER SYSTEM

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—The water users in nearby Durham are getting to be quite a problem when it comes to paying their bills.

According to County Supervisor Frank Meixner, since the defunct Bidwell municipal utility district was declared dissolved by court order, the district has continued operation as a "ghost" system and its customers refuse to pay for the water on the grounds that no one owns it. A suit has been prepared to establish the county's claim to the property.

Impresario in Court

Martin Beck, 71-year-old theatrical producer, leaves court in New York with his wife, after testifying against his secretary-niece, Mrs. Lillian Schrein, charged with fleeing him of $60,000. Regarding a train trip they took together, Beck admitted they used same stateroom but said their conduct had been above reproach.

Contest Gardens To Receive First Inspection Soon

Girl Scouts To Aid Members Of Mahoningtown Garden Club In Project

First inspection of the contest gardens made by students of the Mahoning school under the sponsorship of the Mahoningtown Garden club, will be made this week. It was announced today. Each year this club sponsors a garden contest in the area.

This season there are 34 persons taking part. The gardens are restricted to size, but the gardeners may use their own originality in planting the seeds. All of the contestants are growing the same seeds in order that there might be some system about judging the gardens. From now until the end of the garden season monthly inspections of the gardens will be made by members of the Garden club. They will be aided in these inspections by a group of Girl Scouts from the area. Mrs. William Leicht is chairman of the garden contest committee, and she is being aided by Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, Mrs. Earl Horner and Mrs. Arthur M. Brown. At the close of the garden season prizes will be awarded to the proprietors of the best gardens, and to the holders of the best notebooks made during their gardening experience.
